

The Big Book of Battle Mats

Launched in April 2018, the Big Book of Battle Mats is an innovative product bringing your RPG encounters to life!

The Big Book of Battle Mats has several key features

- 58 A4 pages of Battle Mats for RPG encounters
- Wipe clean format – The big book is fully laminated
- Wire Bound Lay flat format
- Linked designs on opposite pages so option to play on A3 map
- Fantasy Themed
- 1-inch grid throughout

Roleplay has long been catching our imaginations, and Loke BattleMats wanted to launch a product which could not only facilitate a very broad range of RPG encounters, but also add some ideas into the mix as well.

Fantasy based, the Big Book of Battle Mats will lead your party through a world of Dungeons, castle ruins, towns and even puzzle rooms. From the highest castle turret to the darkest dungeon your party can fight, converse and find loot on a manageable 1-inch grid. Visualising the very spot where the goblin is about to jump out at you has never been easier!

The Big Book of Battle Mats is a very versatile product. Published in A4 format it is portable for the travelling DM and ideal to take to any games night. Fully laminated throughout it is wipe clean from any non-permanent pen so you can relax about those essential encounter notes and diagrams.

Adding in another layer of versatility by using a wire bound design, the Big Book of Battle Mats can be opened flat allowing Gamers to play the two themed mats on opposing pages as one A3 encounter mat. So suddenly the path now has a suspicious looking lair coming up...

The Big Book of Battle Mats is all you need to really bring your RPG encounters to life and track where each character is, and as a bonus it can travel on your adventures with you.

Upcoming News

Following the Launch of the Big Book of Battlemats in A4 we were really blown away by the response from the RPG community. They wanted more, quite literally, and so we launched a Kickstarter to add an A3 Giant Book of Battle Mats to the range. This is fully funded and we will be fulfilling in September. Through this Kickstarter we were also able to add a sci fi Book of Battle Mats and an additional fantasy volume.

About Us

Loke BattleMats is a Brighton based family run company specialising in tabletop gaming mats. We have an extensive range of PVC Vinyl tabletop wargaming mats in our own designs. In 2017 we added a range of Neoprene rubber backed mats to our range which feature our in-house designs and a stitched edge and range in size from 3'x3' all the way up to 6'x4'.

Launched in 2017 and expanded through two successful kickstarters in 2017 and 2018, we have a range of over 110 RPG encounter mats featuring optional grids or hex overlays in a range of sizes and themes from fantasy through to modern day and sci fi. Our PVC mats are suitable for use with non-permanent wet marker pens.

Our Sister company GamingBooks specialises in Roleplay books and we are rather proud of our library of rare and out of print issues. We also couldn't resist designing our own range of dice bags and note pads.
